DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-13 and 29-36, drawn to a composition of formula I, classified in class 525, subclass 7+.
  - II. Claims 14-28 and 37-48, drawn to a composition of formula II and method of making it, classified in class 525, subclass 7+.
  - III. Claims 1 and 3 (both in part), drawn to a personal care product comprising the compound of formula I, classified in class 424, subclass 401.
  - IV. Claims 14-19 (each in part), drawn to a personal care product comprising the compound of formula II, classified in class 424, subclass 401.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the compound of formula I does not have to be quaternized to be patentable. The subcombination has separate utility such as cationic polymer.
3. Inventions III and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different effects. Thus, the personal care product of Group II comprising a quaternized polyurethane will have conditioning properties when applied to the skin and/or hair.

Art Unit: 1616

4. Inventions I or II and III or IV are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the compositions of Groups I and II do not require cosmetic components of personal care products of Groups III and IV. The subcombination has separate utility such as personal care composition.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group III or IV is not required for Group I or II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Election of species should be required prior to a search on the merits in all applications containing both species claims and generic or Markush claims. (MPEP 808.01(a))

8. Claims 1-56 generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising:

(a) compounds encompassed by formula (I); and

(b) compounds encompassed by formula (II), which require a burdensome classification, and/or bibliographic, manual and computer search.

Accordingly, regardless of which group is elected, the Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, i.e. a single compound, from either component (a) or (b), even though this requirement is traversed. Applicant should include a chemical structure of the elected compound if not already contained in the specification. An election of "compounds of formula X" will be considered non-responsive.

To be complete, a response to the election of species requirement should include a proper election along with a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. MPEP 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
